Annual performance rating: The annual performance rating as part of an employee's assessment that takes place at the end of the performance cycle. The result of this rating is the overall annual performance score for the employee during the entire performance cycle.

Assessment instrument: An assessment tool used to assess the performance of an individual employee in relation to the achievement of key result areas and core management criteria or generic assessment factors as contained in the workplan of the performance agreement.

Attribute: An attribute (as part of a competency) is generally defined to consist of motives, traits and self-concept.

Competence: Relates to an employee's capacity to meet the job requirements (job competence).

Competency: A competency is a particular mix of knowledge, skills and attributes required to effectively perform a job/task/role.

Confirmed assessment rating: The assessment score for an employee that has been confirmed by the Municipal Moderating Committee (see also validated and provisional assessment rating).

Customers: People internal or external to the department with whom employees interact to provide a service.

Employment Contract: a contract as contemplated in section 57 of the Municipal Systems Act

Development: Training and development activities to enhance the employee's competencies and to improve performance.

Feedback: Objective and timely information by the Director/supervisor on the employee's performance against set expectations and standards, understood by the staff member, and aimed at improving performance.

Generic Assessment Factor: An element used to describe and assess aspects of performance, taking into consideration knowledge, skills and attributes.

Grievance rules: The rules for dealing with the grievances of employees in the Municipality as per the disciplinary collective agreement.

Input Indicator: an indicator that measures the costs, resources and time used to produce an output.

Key Result Area (KRA): An area of a job in which performance is critical for making an effective contribution to the achievement of departmental strategies, goals and objectives.

Moderation: The review of employee assessment scores by a committee to ensure consistency and fairness across the municipality through a common understanding of performance standards required at each level of the rating scale.

Outcome: A broad statement about a specific objective, aim or intent, the achievement of which will require one or more specific outputs to be achieved.

Output: A concrete result or achievement (i.e. a product, action or service) that contributes to the achievement of a key result area.

Performance: Human performance involves (1) employee actions, and (2) the outcomes or effects of those actions. Performance is a process in which resources are used in an effective, efficient and productive way to produce results that satisfy requirements of time, quality and quantity, and which are the effect or outcome of the actions or behaviour of a performer in the work process.

Performance agreement: A document agreed upon and signed by an employee and her or his supervisor, which includes a description of the job, selected KRAs and GAFs, a workplan and the employee's personal development plan.

Performance appraisal/assessment: The measurement, assessment, rating or appraisal of employee performance. The formal annual process is usually referred to as performance appraisal or assessment, while more informal processes are referred to as performance review.

Performance cycle: A 12-month period for which performance is planned, managed and assessed. It must be aligned to the same period as the Municipal's SDBIP i.e. 1st July to 30th June of the following year.

Performance incentive scheme: A municipal performance related incentive scheme aligned with its performance management system.

Performance indicator: A measure used to gauge the extent to which an output has been achieved (policy developed, presentation delivered, service rendered).

Performance management: A purposeful, continuous process aimed at managing and developing employee behaviour for the achievement of the organisation's strategic goals; the determination of the correct activities as well as the evaluation and recognition of the execution of tasks/duties with the aim of enhancing their efficiency and effectiveness; and a means of improving results from the Municipality, teams and individuals by managing performance within an agreed framework of planned goals, objectives, standards and incentives.

Performance management system: An authoritative framework for managing employee performance, which includes the policy framework as well as the framework relating to all aspects and elements in the performance cycle, including performance planning and agreement; performance monitoring, review and control; performance appraisal and moderating; and managing the outcomes of appraisal.

Performance standard: Mutually agreed criteria to describe work in terms of time-lines, cost and quantity and/or quality to clarify the outputs and related activities of a job by describing what the required result should be. In this framework, performance standards are divided into indicators and the time factor.

Performance review: A structured and formal, at least half-yearly, discussion between supervisor and employee to monitor progress, resolve problems and adjust work plans during the performance cycle, thereby providing an opportunity for improvement before the annual review takes place. If the employee's performance is not fully effective or unsatisfactory, the half-yearly review must be in writing.

Supervisor: An official responsible for the allocation of work, monitoring of activities, discussing performance and development, and the half-yearly performance review and annual performance rating of an employee.

Validated assessment rating (VAR): The performance rating for an employee that has been validated by an assessment higher than the employee's supervisor for submission to the Municipal Moderating Committee.

Weight: With reference to the inclusion and assessment of KRAs and GAFs in the performance agreement/workplan, each KRA and GAF is allocated a weight or percentage, which indicates the relative importance or impact of the specific KRA or GAF in comparison to the others selected in the performance agreement, and the combined weights must add up to 100%.

Workplan: A document which is part of the performance agreement and which contains key result areas, associated outputs/activities and their performance standards and resource requirements.

INDIVIDUAL PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

1. INTRODUCTION

The Individual Performance Management System (IPMS) has been designed as a system to assist with performance management on task grade 1 to 15. This system becomes effective on 1 July 2021.

The IPMS provides a standardised framework for employee performance on task grade 1 to 15 in the municipality. Three main levels are involved in performance management: At the organisational level the Council and the Municipal Manager determine the strategic priorities and overall key result areas of the municipality, while objectives are identified for the priorities and assigned to components within the municipality. At the department level, departments undertake the execution of projects and activities that lead to the achievement of the integrated development plan. At the employee level each employee develops a performance agreement jointly with her or his supervisor.

Key requirements for the successful implementation of the IPMS are the following:

The institutional framework determines responsibilities for specific aspects of the IPMS. With the Strategic Plan as basis, the municipality is able to identify high-level priorities and specific objectives to be achieved by business units. However, all the work done in a municipality is not captured in a strategic plan, which means that performance agreements for employees whose key responsibility areas and activities are not covered in the strategic must reflect their own KRAs and priorities. Performance Agreements enable the department to assign specific performance objectives and targets to employees. This also enables employees in the municipality to participate meaningfully in the management of their own performance.

Another key requirement for the successful implementation of the IPMS is training on the system. Managers, supervisors and employees must be trained in the mechanics of the system and areas such as communication, problem-solving and conflict resolution in order to manage the system more effectively. The training of supervisors in particular is of the utmost importance, and this should result in supervisors knowing how to implement the system, ensuring that employees receive adequate training and possess sufficient information to be able to fully participate in the processes. This must be done with the support and co-operation of the Human Resource in the Municipality.

2 SCOPE AND APPLICATION

The IPMS is a framework for performance management that applies to all employees in the Municipality on task grade 1 to 15 who are permanent or on fixed term contract excluding the Municipal Manager and S56 Managers, casual workers, employees hired for less than 3 months and those employees on EPWP and such other programmes as might be introduced by the government.

3 SOURCES OF AUTHORITY

Specific sources of authority for various elements of performance management are:

- The Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996
- The Skills Development Act (Act 97 of 1998)
- The Labour Relations Act (Act 66 of 1995)
- Promotion of Equality and Prevention of Unfair Discrimination Act, (Act 4 of 2000)
- Promotion of Access to Information Act (Act 2 of 2000)
- Employment Equity Act (Act 55 of 1998)
- Promotion of Administrative Justice Act, 2000
- Relevant collective agreements

4 AIMS OF PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT

4.1 Goal

For the purpose of this IPMS, performance management is aimed at planning, managing and improving employee performance. The aim of performance management is to optimise every employee's output in terms of quality and quantity, thereby improving the Municipal overall performance and service delivery.

4.2 Objectives

In order to achieve individual excellence and achievement, the objectives for performance management are to -

- establish a performance and learning culture in the Municipality;
- improve service delivery;
- ensure that all jobholders know and understand what is expected of them;
- promote interaction on performance between jobholders and their supervisors;
- identify, manage and promote jobholders' development needs;
- evaluate performance fairly and objectively;
- recognise categories of performance that are fully effective and better; and
- manage categories of performance that are not fully effective and lower.

5. THE PERFORMANCE CYCLE

Performance management at the employee level is an on-going interactive process between an employee and her/his supervisor about the employee's performance. Face to-face on-going communication is an essential requirement of the process and covers the full performance cycle. For effectiveness of operation the cycle is divided into integrated phases or elements of –

- Performance planning and agreement;
- Performance monitoring, developing and control;
- Performance assessment or appraisal; and
- Managing the outcomes of assessment

The performance cycle is a 12-month period for which performance is planned, executed and assessed. It must be aligned to the same period as the Department's annual business plan i.e. 1st July to 30th June of the following year. The 12-month cycle is also linked to the financial year for the purpose of planning, pay progression and other performance related incentives such as performance awards or cash bonuses. The probation cycle, however, is linked to the appointment date of a jobholder.

6.1 The performance agreement (PA)

The performance agreement is the cornerstone of performance management at the individual level. All employees must enter into and sign performance agreements before the end of the first quarter of the new cycle. Municipal and component performance measures should inform the development of the individual employee's PA. The PA format applies to all levels in the municipality and the contents must reflect the municipal's strategic and SDBIP and the employee's job description, job role and actual activities and responsibilities.

The content of a PA must include the following (refer to Annexure A) –

- Employee data such as the Employee number, job title and level, as well as a description of the employee's job role, with emphasis on the main objectives, job purpose, key result areas (KRAs) and generic assessment factors (GAFs).
- A workplan containing the KRAs, outputs, activities and resource requirements.
- A personal development plan (PDP) that assists in identifying developmental areas and needs of the employee, as well as methods to improve these.

If an employee changes jobs during the performance cycle, but remains at the same grade, a new PA must be entered into for the new role and the performance assessment should take both periods into consideration. Only supervisors are authorised to enter into a performance agreement with another employee on behalf of the municipality. The PA, especially the workplan, should be re-negotiated if the employee has not been in the job role for three months or more for any reason, as for example, maternity, ill health, study, secondment, or travel; unless this absence was built into the original agreement. A PA without a completed and attached workplan should be regarded as invalid and of little use in the performance management process.

Individual Scorecards (employees in managerial/supervisory capacity)

Individual employed in a supervisory capacity will enter into performance agreements with their immediate supervisor. The data obtained from the Department's scorecards (detailed SDBIP), will provide the user with the respective individual performance contracts for S56 Managers.

Performance Agreements for these staff members should include the following:

- (a) Job functions: key focus areas for the year
- (b) Key Performance Indicators linked to the SDBIP (KPI's in the SDBIP are the responsibility of the respective Manager and KPI's aligned to the job description of the Manager).
- (c) Employee KPI's: core managerial competencies that the manager will be evaluated on.
- (d) A list of the core managerial competencies (CMC's) is provided on the performance system and the manager should select between 3 and 5 CMC's. The CMC's and the measurement criteria should be agreed with the respective Senior Manager (S56 Manager).
- (e) Weightings show the relative importance of input or output against another input or output. Every output or input in the performance agreement must be assigned a weighting. The weighting/ratings and the distribution of the ratings per level need to be determined by the management team in the beginning of the financial year and agreed with the employer or group of employers.
- (f) Development needs and learning plan which should be taken into consideration when training and development priorities are determined in the Workplace Skills Plan (WSP).

Lower Level Staff (staff not in supervisory capacity)

A Performance Development Plan should be agreed to for all employees in this category based on the job functions and include the following:

- (a) Qualifications: a record of formal and informal training and experience
- (b) Job functions: key focus areas for the year
- (c) Career goals: long term and intermediate career goals
- (d) Performance agreed for all employees on a specific job level
- (e) Performance agreed with the individual employee unique to the employee's daily tasks and job function
- (f) Measurable performance indicators should be designed to ensure effective and efficient service delivery (value for money)
- (g) Training or other skills development needs of the employee

A performance Development Plan should be agreed to between the employer and the employee. If the nature of the employee's job is team related, a supervisor can in agreement with the employee, include a KPI that measures the employee's functioning within a team.

6.2 The workplan

While the performance agreement is the cornerstone of performance management at the individual level, the workplan contains the essence of the performance agreement (see the Guide to the Workplan and template in Annexure B).

The criteria upon which the performance of an employee is assessed, consist of Key Result Areas (KRAs) and the Generic Assessment Factors (GAFs) which are contained in the PA. Each employee must be assessed against both areas. KRAs covering the main areas of work will account for 80% of the final assessment, while the GAFs make up the other 20% of the assessment score.

KRAs describe what is expected from an employee in his/her role and focus attention on actions and activities that will assist units and ultimately the department in performing effectively. In the workplan the KRAs should be broken down into outputs and activities with the resource requirements. These are used to indicate how the performance/achievement of the outputs and activities will be measured. KRAs can cover many different aspects of the work such as –

- Specific tasks or events which the employee should ensure are achieved;
- Levels of performance which the employee should maintain and promote;
- Actions or situations for which the employee is personally responsible for delivering his/her "unique contribution"; and
- Duties and responsibilities related to advice and support given, for example, by specialists to clients.

Although there is no limit to the number of KRAs to be included in a PA, they should preferably not exceed five. Each KRA should be broken down into measurable outputs and/or duties/responsibilities and activities. Each KRA should be weighted (in %) according to the importance it has in the employee's/member's job. The weighting of all the KRAs should add up to 100.

Generic Assessment Factors (GAFs) are elements and standards used to describe and assess performance, taking into consideration knowledge, skills and attributes. The following GAFs are used to calculate 20% of the employee's assessment score. The supervisor and employee must agree on at least five out of the fifteen GAFs that are deemed to be most important for effective performance in that particular job (refer to Annexure C for a Guide to Generic Assessment Factors). The service delivery (Batho Pele) imperative must as far as possible be applied in assessing these GAFs.

- Job knowledge
- Technical skills
- Acceptance of responsibility
- Quality of work
- Reliability
- Initiative
- Communication
- Interpersonal relationships
- Flexibility
- Team work
- Planning and execution
- Leadership
- Delegation and empowerment
- Management of financial resources
- Management of human resources

Employees should be assessed against the selected GAFs applicable to their jobs. A professional may for example have no employees under his/her control or may have no financial responsibilities. To adapt the GAFs to specific jobs and job contexts, the employee and supervisor will need to –

- Decide which of the GAFs apply to the employee's job.
- Weigh each relevant GAF to show the extent to which it relates to the specific job. One way of jointly arriving at decisions on how important any specific GAF is to a specific job is to use the factors of impact and frequency. The greater the impact and frequency, the greater the importance that criterion is likely to have on the achievement of effective performance results. The weighting of all the GAFs should add up to 100.

Each selected GAF is rated using the guide to generic factors for assessing performance (in Annexure C).

6.3 Personal Development Plan (PDP)

The PA must include a Personal Development Plan (refer to Annexure D for an example). The purpose of the development plan is to identify any performance output shortfall in the work of the employee, either historical or anticipated, to relate this to a supporting GAF shortfall and then to plan and implement a specific set of actions to reduce the gap. The competence gap may relate to any of the GAFs included in this IPMS or any other area of the employee's knowledge, skill and attribute requirement. The PDP should include interventions relating to the technical or occupational "hard skills" of the job, through e.g. appropriate training interventions, on-the-job training, expanded job exposure, and job rotation. The employee and the supervisor are required to take joint responsibility for the achievement of the PDP with allocated accountabilities clearly recorded on the PDP agreement document.

6.4 Prolonged absence and staff movement

Absence during the cycle

Normal periods of leave for example vacation leave and/or short periods of sick leave do not usually interfere unduly with the employee's performance management cycle. In the case of other forms of absence for a continuous prolonged period of time, supervisors and employees should have a discussion to reach mutual agreement on the ability to execute a meaningful rating for that period or for an annual assessment. If it is not possible to make a meaningful review or annual rating, it must be indicated in writing. New work plans may also need to be developed on return from a prolonged absence. While an employee is not penalised for any form of formally approved leave, it is also true that an employee who has been absent for a prolonged period, has not rendered the same extent of service as an employee who did not have such prolonged leave.

In this regard the principle is that "doing all the work" translates to a 3-rating ("effective performance") for which an employee receives a full salary, a 13th cheque and pay progression. Supervisors must carefully consider the rating and assessment of an employee who had been on prolonged leave of absence, to balance the rights of those who were absent with the contribution of those who had to do more work because others were absent.

Acting in higher positions

When an employee is appointed to act in a higher position for shorter than six weeks, the workplan should be based on the post that the employee is permanently appointed to. Depending on the employee's performance during the periods of acting, recognition for performance of the duties of the higher position should be given during the performance assessment, on the workplan of the permanent post.

When acting in a higher position for longer than six weeks, where an acting allowance is being paid, a workplan must be compiled for the higher position that the employee would be expected to perform against. The performance of the employee, acting in the higher position, will be assessed in terms of the amended workplan, against the standards applicable to the grade of the employee's permanent position. Performance incentives must be calculated at the task grade of the post to which the employee is permanently appointed, based on the employee's salary notch on 30th June of the cycle.

Staff movement

Where staff members change jobs within the municipality during the IPMS cycle, performance reviews related to the employee vacating the post have to be completed prior to moving to the new position. If the employee changing jobs is a supervisor or manager, performance reviews for each employee under her/his control should be completed prior to her/his movement. In the case of supervisors, regardless of the reason for their departure, they will be required to assess their staff prior to departure.

Misconduct and suspension

Decisions pertaining to performance rating should be based on an employee's actual performance. In the event of alleged misconduct, some questions need to be posed.

- What was the nature of the misconduct (e.g. financial, management)?
- Was the person found guilty or not?
- If found guilty, what was the nature of the sanction (e.g. discharge, suspension)?
- Did the misconduct and/or the sanction impact on performance?
- Was the employee suspended for a prolonged period?

It is difficult to lay down a general rule and each case must be judged on its own merit. If a misconduct charge, and/or the hearing, and/or any sanctions have a serious negative impact on an employee's performance, it would be difficult to motivate for awarding a 3 rating or higher.

6.5 Amendments to the performance agreement

Performance in the Local Government sphere takes place in a dynamic environment. A performance agreement can therefore never be cast in stone. Even though the initial PA is signed at the start of the performance cycle, significant changes and additions must on an on-going basis be reflected in the PA and Workplan.

The PA and Workplan against which an employee is assessed at the end of the cycle must accurately reflect the employee's actual activities and outputs during the entire performance cycle. Amendments must be made to the PA and Workplan and these must be signed and dated by both the employee and her/his supervisor.

7 PERFORMANCE MONITORING, REVIEW AND ASSESSMENT

7.1 Performance monitoring

Performance at the individual level must be continuously monitored to enable the identification of performance barriers and changes and to address development and improvement needs as they arise, as well as to –

- determine progress and/or identify obstacles in achieving objectives and targets;

- enable supervisors and jobholders to deal with performance-related problems;
- identify and provide the support needed;
- modify objectives and targets; and
- ensure continuous learning and development.

7.2 Categories of performance and rating scale

The following five categories of performance are used for the purpose of performance rating, review and the annual assessment of employees:

RATING	CATEGORY	DESCRIPTION
1	UNACCEPTABLE PERFORMANCE	Performance does not meet the standard expected for the job. The review/assessment indicates that the jobholder has achieved less than fully effective results against almost all of the performance criteria and indicators as specified in the Performance Agreement and Workplan.
2	PERFORMANCE NOT FULLY EFFECTIVE	Performance meets some of the standards expected for the job. The review/assessment indicates that the jobholder has achieved less than fully effective results against more than half of the performance criteria and indicators as specified in the Performance Agreement and Workplan.
3	PERFORMANCE FULLY EFFECTIVE	Performance fully meets the standard expected in all areas of the job. The review / assessment indicates that the jobholder has achieved as a minimum effective results against all of the performance criteria and indicators as specified in the Performance Agreement and Workplan.
4	PERFORMANCE SIGNIFICANTLY ABOVE EXPECTATIONS	Performance is significantly higher than the standard expected in the job. The review/assessment indicates that the jobholder has achieved better than fully effective results against more than half of the performance criteria and indicators as specified in the Performance Agreement and Workplan and fully achieved all others throughout the performance cycle.
5	OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE	Performance far exceeds the standard expected of a jobholder at this level. The review/assessment indicates that the jobholder has achieved better than fully effective results against all of the performance criteria and indicators as specified in the PA and Workplan and maintained this in all areas of responsibility throughout the performance cycle.

7.3 The five-point rating scale

As illustrated above, the IPMS utilises a five-point rating scale. A “3” on the scale – “Fully Effective” – means that the employee’s performance fully meets the standard required, and has achieved effective results against all performance criteria. In terms of the new approach to performance rating, an employee who is rated as “fully effective” has fully complied with the requirements of the job. On the rating scale this translates to a score of 100%.

7.4 Performance review and assessment

(Half-yearly review form at Annexure E; refer to 8.1 for probationers)

Performance review meetings are an integral part of the monitoring process. These reviews must take place as often as is practical and/or required by circumstances. The reviews are necessary to motivate and to reveal to the employee areas that need improvement and if required, to modify the PA. The supervisor should use all opportunities to discuss the employee’s performance, including component meetings, report backs, and informal discussions. An employee’s supervisor shall monitor the employee's performance on a continuous basis and give him/her feedback on his/her performance: at least four times a year - orally, if the employee's performance is satisfactory (fully effective and above); and in writing if unsatisfactory (not fully effective and below); at least twice (in writing or orally) during the six months preceding the employee's annual formal performance assessment; and in writing, for the annual formal performance assessment covering the whole cycle.

Should the supervisor, as a result of this review, or at any time during the performance cycle, be of the opinion that the employee's performance is markedly below what is required, the supervisor must complete a full and formal assessment, assign ratings to KRAs and GAFs, complete all documentation and have the document signed by the employee. This ensures that the employee is left in no doubt that what she or he has been producing as work outputs is not acceptable and that continuation in this poor standard of performance will affect service delivery and is sure to result in a low performance assessment at the end of the cycle, with its resultant consequences.

The supervisor should be prepare by –

- reviewing the previous period and objectives and targets for the next period;
- reviewing support needed and drafting training and development needs;
- seeking appropriate feedback from relevant role-players to support the process;
- reviewing and updating all relevant documentation; and
- identifying internal/external factors affecting the jobholder's performance.

The jobholder should be prepare by –

- reviewing previous objectives and identifying possible new objectives;
- collecting supporting facts on performance delivered;
- identifying factors that affected his/her performance;
- identifying support that will be needed as well as possible training and development needs; and
- reflecting on the feedback to be given to the supervisor.

The review is a one to one discussion between the supervisor and the employee. The content and outcomes of the half-yearly feedback session and the end of year assessment should be signed by both parties. The December review is the mid-term review for the July to December period. At all levels the periodic reviews must also include a discussion on the employee's development plan requirements. The final assessment and discussion must take place at the end of the performance cycle and coincides with the end of the financial year, i.e. June of each year. The result of the assessment discussion and evaluation is an assessment score for the employee's performance that is the total of the individual KRA and /GAF assessment scores.

The assessment discussion should enable –

- An opportunity for the employee to assess his/her own performance and its contribution to organisational goals and to identify areas of improvement;
- An opportunity for the supervisor to provide formal feedback on performance over the year and to identify ways of improving what was achieved;

- An opportunity for the employee to contribute to, and respond to comments regarding his/her performance and identify issues beyond his/her control that limit the achievement of results;
- An open discussion between the employee and his/her supervisor in which achievements can be fully recognised and ideas for problem solving agreed;
- Agreement on an overall assessment score reflecting judgement on the level of achievement attained in terms of the performance agreement; and
- An opportunity for the supervisor and the employee to agree on areas of personal development.

The reviews shall take place quarterly as follows:

October (for the period July to end of September) Informal

January (for the period October to end of December) Formal (mid- term)

April (for the period January to end March) Informal

July (for the period April to end June) Formal (annual)

7.5 Annual performance assessment

• Performance assessment instrument

The assessment instrument for employees (task grade 1 to 15) is contained in Annexure F.

The same assessment instrument¹ is used to conduct the performance reviews, as well as the overall annual performance of the employee. It is this overall annual performance assessment score that is to be used as the basis of deciding career incidents for the employee. The same assessment instrument must also be used for deciding on probation, rewards and skills development. Apart from the review discussion and the supervisor's knowledge of the employee's actual performance, managers must bear in mind that assessment should be based "only on the information contained in the designated performance assessment instrument."

• Steps in the assessment process

The IPMS relies on agreement between the direct supervisor and employee on, first, the expected performance during the cycle (the performance agreement), and second, on the required results achieved during the cycle.

The supervisor will have the most complete knowledge of the employee's performance and plays a critical role in the assessment process. The annual assessment takes place after the end of the performance cycle on 30th June of each year. The annual assessment provides the final rating score on which decisions pertaining to career incidents such as pay progression and the possible granting of non-financial performance awards are based. The process commences with a self-assessment by the employee. The supervisor then assesses the employee and reviews the self-assessment.

- Self-assessment

The role of the employee whose performance is being assessed is the following:

- assess his/her own progress according to his/her performance agreement and workplan, during the period under review and allocate performance ratings;
- bring to his/her manager's attention, significant other outputs that were delivered during this period which are not contained in the performance plan and/or performance which he/she regards as being meritorious;
- provide inputs on areas of performance, which the manager has identified as not being fully effective;
- review his/her performance agreement for validity; and
- discuss and initiate possible amendments to the performance agreement.

- Supervisory assessment

The role of the employee's supervisor in the assessment is the following -

- facilitate the assessment session;
- assess the employee's performance according to his/her performance agreement and workplan during the period under review and allocate performance ratings;
- give recognition to the employee for good performance during the review period;
- recognise other significant outputs that were delivered during this period which are not contained in the performance plan and/or performance which he/she regards as being meritorious;
- identify performance areas which have been identified as being not fully effective;
- allow the employee opportunity to give his/her input during the session;
- identify remedial steps which will be taken to eliminate factors which have hampered the employee's performance;
- review the employee's performance agreement and workplan, for validity;
- discuss and initiate possible amendments to the employee's performance plan;
- record his/her comment about the performance of the employee.

- Assessment of the achievement of results (KRAs) outlined in the work plan

- Each KRA must be assessed on the extent to which the specified standards have been met and outputs achieved.
- An indicative rating on the five-point scale must be provided for each KRA.
- This rating must be multiplied by the weighting given to the KRA during the contracting process, to provide a score.
- The rating calculator can be used to add the scores and calculate a final KRA score, based on the 100% weighting allocated to the KRAs.

- Assessment of the GAFs
 - Each GAF must be assessed according to the extent to which the specified standards have been met.
 - An indicative rating on the five-point scale must be provided for each GAF but included in the KRA's.
- Provisional assessment rating (PAR)

An overall score, in accordance with the assessment rating is provided as a summary of the outcome of the annual performance review for KRAs and GAFs. The assessment rating calculator may be used to provide a score based on adding the scores achieved for the KRAs and the GAFs. During this face-to-face session the supervisor and employee must endeavour to reach consensus on the employee's rating (self assessment and supervisor assessment).

If there is consensus between the supervisor and employee on the rating, this becomes the provisional assessment rating (PAR). The employee's supervisor then submits this provisional rating to the Director (if the supervisor is not the Director). At this point the Director may interrogate the PAR and if she/he is of the view that the PAR is not a fair reflection of the employee's performance (too low or too high) she/he may request the supervisor to review the rating score with the employee. The Director submits all employee PARs to a higher assessment body for first level moderation (moderating arrangements are discussed in paragraph 8 below).

If there is disagreement that cannot be resolved between themselves on the scores given, the employee and supervisor must each note their reasons, and these must be submitted to a mutually agreed mediator for mediation before moderation. If this mediation does not result in a resolution within five days, the notes may later be used if a grievance is submitted after the finalisation of the whole process.

8. PERFORMANCE MODERATION

Reasons for the moderation of employee ratings include the following –

- (a) The purpose of performance assessment review by higher levels of management above the supervisor (moderation) is to ensure, as far as possible, that the performance of all employees is evaluated fairly and consistently across the Municipality.
- (b) Only 1% of the departmental wage bill can be allocated for the purpose of pay progression.

The importance of a realistic self-rating coupled with a realistic rating agreed upon between the supervisor and employee is nowhere illustrated as clearly as when the process of moderation commences.

There should be a common understanding of the standards required at each level of the rating scale as well as the unit of measurement and standards that should be linked to posts where similar outputs are required. Moderating of performance takes place at different levels in the organisation to contribute to consistent and fair performance management and assessment processes. The problem with moderation arises when individual ratings agreed upon between the employee and her/his supervisor may have to be amended, especially if the implication of moderation is that a rating score has to be lowered.

As noted above, the employee's provisional assessment rating (PAR) is that which is agreed upon between the employee and her/his supervisor. At this point the employee is aware of the rating. Any change, especially if the intention is that the rating score should be lowered, must be dealt with in a consultative, just and transparent manner.

8.1 Normal distribution curve of performance categories

Performance that is fully effective (average, satisfactory) is generally rewarded by means of the annual salary, a thirteenth cheque, the annual salary adjustment. Only performance that is significantly above expectations and outstanding should qualify for performance awards. The following guideline, based on the statistical normal distribution curve principles, may assist the Moderating Committee to evaluate the summarised analysis of the outcome of performance ratings. In terms of this normal distribution, about 25 percent of staff may generally qualify for one of the three categories of performance bonus. This guideline may be taken into account in identifying trends and making recommendations for other awards –

Performance Category	Total Score	The following % of staff should normally fall in this category
Unacceptable performance	69% and lower	3%
Performance not fully effective	70% - 99%	7%
Performance fully effective (and slightly above expectations)	100% - 114%	65%
Performance significantly above expectations	115% -149%	22%
Outstanding Performance	150% - 167%	3%

This can be illustrated as follows –

8.2 The intermediate review committee (IRC)

Apart from a Municipal Moderating Committee that must be established, the municipality must also establish an intermediate review committee (between the supervisor and the Moderating Committee) for reviewing/moderating the provisional assessment rating of employees. The nature of such committees will depend on the size and structure of the municipality. Any recommended changes in ratings by such a body must be communicated to the supervisors of the employees concerned. The IRC may recommend changes to rating score (PAR) including the lowering of such ratings.

The intermediate review committee receives the Provisional Assessment Ratings of all employees reporting to it, to review and compare these, and to validate the ratings. If the intermediate assessment committee agrees with the PAR, it then becomes the Validated Assessment Rating (VAR). Any recommendation on the lowering of rating scores must be referred back to the employee's supervisor to try and reach consensus on the change. If the supervisor or a mediator cannot convince the employee of a change in the rating, the rating is forwarded to the Moderating Committee. The Moderating Committee may confirm the rating, which then becomes the Confirmed Assessment Rating (CAR), which is the final rating score for an employee.

After receiving written confirmation of a final Confirmed Assessment Rating from the municipality, an aggrieved employee may then submit her/his grievance to the Assessment Appeal Panel, and failing agreement and a solution, the employee may then submit a formal grievance in terms of the Disciplinary Collective Agreement.

8.3 Municipal Moderating Committee (MMC)

The municipality must establish a Municipal Moderating Committee (MMC) for task grade 1 to 15, which is chaired by the Director: Corporate Services Director comprising of all the HOD's of the municipality.

Powers and functions of the MMC

The role of the Municipal Moderating Committee is to ensure that the annual performance assessment is done in a realistic, consistent and fair manner, to monitor the performance assessment process by obtaining an overall sense of whether norms and standards are being applied consistently and realistically to employees on the same level. The MMC should not assess each individual case for purposes of evaluating ratings, but should develop an overall view of the results of process. If the MMC identifies deviations or discrepancies, these should be referred back to Directors and supervisors who had agreed the ratings with their subordinates, together with reasons for the decision. This should be accompanied by a request for reconsideration of the rating. Unless it is an overall assessment score adjustment that alters the assessment scores of all employees (as a group) by the same quantum, the MMC may not change an individual employee's assessment rating, without first referring the issue back to the IRC and the supervisor who made the initial assessment. The MMC must keep detailed minutes of decisions, in particular if it recommends lowering rating scores.

The role of the Municipal Moderating Committee must therefore –

- Provide oversight of the application of the IPMS, ensuring that the performance management process, including the setting of performance standards is valid, fair and objective;
- Advise the Municipal Manager on financial and non-financial rewards;
- Detect potential problems in the system and advise the Municipal Manager accordingly;
- Review overall assessment scores across sections in the municipality;
- Recommend reward levels and remedial action for performance and non-performance, respectively; and
- Make recommendations regarding actions to be considered where managers and supervisors do not properly and fairly execute their responsibilities with regard to assessment and rating in terms of the IPMS.

8.4 Assessment Appeal Panel (AAP)

The role of the AAP becomes clear in the overall context of performance review and moderation (see Annexure H for a flow diagram of the process). This role is two-fold: (a) as a municipal recourse for an employee in a disagreement over a proposal by the IRC to amend an assessment rating, and after being informed of final rating (Confirmed Assessment Rating) before a formal grievance is lodged, and (b) as an arbiter in ad hoc disputes and disagreements.

The Assessment Appeal Panel is constituted by the Municipal manager for specific cases and must include expertise of the line function, performance management, legal affairs and labour relations. The Panel will consider written representations from employees in the event of a disagreement and after submission in writing to Labour Relations. The AAP that is then constituted, has the following responsibilities —

- To review a disagreement between an employee and the municipality over her/his Confirmed Assessment Rating, and to make a recommendation in this regard to the Municipal Moderating Committee. The submission in this instance is made by the aggrieved employee to Labour Relations who then ensures that the AAP is activated and set up appropriately.

- To act as an arbiter and make recommendations to the Municipal Moderating Committee in the event of special cases of disputes and disagreements, for example in a specific section or with a specific manager or supervisor, or of a specific employee, especially in cases where the interpretation or application of the IPMS is at issue.

8.5 Disagreements over rating and assessment

Agreement between an employee and her/his supervisor, and/or with review and moderation actions on an issue such as rating, is not always guaranteed. If the requirements of the system are met for regular consultation and discussion between the supervisor and the employee, there should normally be little cause for continued disagreement.

However, disagreement may occur (a) between the employee and her/his supervisor; (b) between an employee and her/his supervisor on the one hand, and the IRC on the other hand; (c) between the IRC and the Municipal Moderating Committee; and even between the Moderating Committee and the Municipal Manager. Disagreements at the levels of the IRC and/or the Municipal Moderating Committees may be limited or minimised if the assessment of senior managers is done before the assessment of non-managers. This may assist in limiting possible contradictions or inequities between the assessment of, for example, particular cascading KRAs found on the different levels. This approach may set certain parameters of performance that may partially serve as benchmarks when assessing individuals below the management level in the department. If there are fundamental disagreements between the IRC and the Municipal Moderating Committee, or if the Municipal Manager does not wish to approve recommendations of the Municipal Moderating Committee, such issues should be resolved at management level after consultation with relevant managers.

If this process results in changes to individual assessment scores, and employees refuse to accept the changes, employees may follow the formal grievance rules of the Disciplinary collective agreement. As is the case with other aspects of the IPMS, employees must be informed of the route and processes to be followed in the event of disagreement over performance assessments. If the above processes ultimately fail to resolve the disagreement or grievance, the employee is entitled to seek redress through other means available in law.

9 OUTCOMES OF PERFORMANCE ASSESSMENT

9.1 Probation

The performance of employees on probation is managed in terms of the IPMS process as well as the municipal policy on probation. The process is as follows:

- The IPMS will serve as the system that is used to assess an employee during the period of her or his probation.

- The performance assessment of employees on probation must be conducted monthly and must link with the IPMS.
- The performance assessment form must be submitted to HR immediately following the assessment.
- At expiry of the probationary period the supervisor of the probationer must make a recommendation on whether or not appointment should be confirmed. If the probationer is not deemed suitable for the relevant post, other options such as the extension of probation, formal registration on the incapacity programme or as a last resort, dismissal, should be considered. (Refer to Annexure G for probation assessment form.)

An employee's probationary period will not necessarily coincide with the 1 July to 30 June cycle, however the IPMS assessment tool must be used for assessment, and the results captured in the monthly probation assessment form.

9.2 Managing performance that is not fully effective

Supervisors are required to first identify and then, in line with a developmental approach, deal with unacceptable performance of employees under their supervision. The IPMS provides for the early identification and resolution of unacceptable performance. The employee's performance rating as "not fully effective" or lower during the annual performance assessment should not be the first indication of the employee's shortcomings. Performance monitoring, including the performance reviews, provide opportunities to ensure this does not happen. Interventions by the supervisor to overcome performance shortfalls on the part of the employee can include any or all of the following:

- Personal counselling
- On-the-job mentoring and coaching
- Formal training/re-training
- Restating the workplan performance requirements
- Work environment audits to establish other factors affecting performance.

Should the employee not respond to reasonable and continuous attempts to improve performance and an overall performance assessment score of less than 90% is consistently the result of the assessment process, the employee must be formally registered on an "Incapacity Programme" and advised of this in writing.

9.3 Pay progression

Employees on task grade 1 to 15 are eligible for pay progression to the maximum notch of the task grade attached to their posts provided that they complete a continuous period of at least 12 months on her or his notch (1 July to 30 June) and must be performing at least at the level of fully effective (satisfactory), as assessed in terms of the IPMS.

The pay progression cycle (and the assessment cycle) runs over a continuous period of 12 months, commencing on 1 July of a particular year. Progression takes place annually on 1 July of each year.

Only valid notches on the task grade must be used in the process of progression. Employees on personal notches (therefore on a notch above the maximum of the task grade attached to his or her post), shall not qualify for pay progression, but shall receive any annual salary adjustments on the task grade plus a performance bonus if they qualify in terms of the VAR. The pay progression system does not impede the Council to award a higher salary to employees. Therefore –

- employees, who are awarded a higher task grade level by the Council, that does not correlate to the job weight attached to their job, shall not qualify for pay progression on the higher salary level; and
- employees, who are awarded a higher notch within the task grade, that correlates to the job weight attached to their job, shall qualify for pay progression, provided they comply with the set criteria.

Employees who benefit from pay progression during a financial year will receive the benefit in addition to possible annual cost-of-living adjustments. Employees may in the same financial year receive pay progression and other performance related incentives (e.g. another notch increase) provided for in municipal performance related incentive schemes.

9.4 Municipal performance incentive scheme

The municipality must establish a performance related financial incentive scheme.

This provides for the following-

(A) Incentives for good performance

The municipality has a financial performance incentive scheme for employees on task grade 1 to 15. This scheme includes the awarding of notch increases and non-financial awards, subject to the measures as set out in paragraph 9.5 below.

(B) Suggestions, improvements and innovations

If an employee makes a suggestion, improvement or invention of exceptional value to the municipality or local government as a whole –

- (a) the municipality has the right to use any such suggestion, improvement or invention; and
- (b) the Municipal Manager may reward the employee through –
 - (i) any non-financial reward;
 - (ii) notch increase

The Municipality must annually budget 1% of its wage bill for pay progression and 1,5% of the remuneration budget for the allocation of performance rewards. If this is insufficient to award deserving employees, the Municipality should scale down the percentages or set tighter standards for the granting of awards. The 1.5% may, in exceptional cases, be exceeded with the approval of the Council.

9.5 Performance awards

To understand the relationship between scoring an individual KRA or GAF on the 5 point rating scale, on the one hand, and total scores on the other hand, it must be kept in mind that a total score can be a variable mix of the five categories (1,2,3,4 and 5).

A total score must therefore not be read mechanistically into the description of a specific performance category, because a total score might contain a mix of KRA and GAF ratings ranging from 1 to 5, depending on the weighting of the elements. For purposes of illustration the following three broad groups of total performance scores can be distinguished, with the corresponding categories, percentages and outcomes:

Performance groups	Percentages	Performance categories	Percentages	Outcomes
Below satisfactory performance	99% and below	Unacceptable performance (1)	69% and below	No notch increase
		Performance not fully effective (2)	70% - 99%	No notch increase
Satisfactory performance	100% - 114%	Performance fully effective (3)	100% - 114%	Pay progression
Above satisfactory performance	115%-149%	Performance significantly above expectations (4)	115% - 149%	Notch increase
	150%-167%	Outstanding performance (5)	150% - 167%	Double notch increase

The following tables summarise the various measures.

Task Grade 1 to 15

PERFORMANCE CATEGORY	TOTAL SCORE	PROBATION	DEVELOPMENT	PAY * PROGRESSION
Unacceptable performance	69% and lower	Extend probation or terminate in terms of Incapacity Code	Agree on development programme	-
Performance not fully effective	70% - 99%	Extend probation	Agree on development programme	-
Performance fully effective	100% - 114%	Confirm appointment	Agree on development opportunities	Pay progression
Performance significantly above expectations	115% - 149%	Confirm appointment	Agree on development opportunities	1 notch
Outstanding performance	150% - 167%	Confirm appointment	Agree on development opportunities	2 notches

The municipality may not exceed 1.5% of its remuneration budget for performance rewards. The percentage decided upon by the MMC should be applicable to all employees in the specific categories. If it is not possible to stay within the 1.5% limit, even after lowering the percentage ranges, the MMC may in exceptional circumstances make a motivated recommendation to the Council to approve that this limit may be exceeded.

9.6 Budget for incentives

The performance cycle is a one-year period running from 1 July to 30 June of the following calendar year. In order to comply with the Incentive Policy Framework, the Municipality must budget —

- 1% of the wage bill for effecting pay progression for task grade 1 to 15; and
- 1.5% of the remuneration budget for the allocation of performance rewards including bonuses for task grad 1 to 15.

As the formal annual assessment covers the period up to 30 June, it means that the assessment process will start and end after 1 July with the result that the funds required for pay progression and performance rewards for, e.g. the 2021/2022 performance cycle, should be available during the 2022/2023 budgetary cycle, and the municipality must ensure that all payments are effected before the end of this cycle.

9.7 Non-financial incentives

Financial rewards on their own are not always sufficient to motivate staff towards performance excellence. Other more creative ways for recognising performance should be explored, i.e. where the award does not directly lead to "money in the pocket".

The department may, from time-to-time, at the discretion of the Municipal Manager introduce mechanisms for non-financial recognition to stimulate performance across the municipality. However, managers may also propose forms of non-financial recognition, provided these remain non-financial, fit into the budget and do not change any basic condition of employment. The following are examples of recognition that can be considered —

- Acknowledgement and recognition of performance excellence i.e. in municipal publications; specially created awards and certificates; citations at conferences/meetings; attendance at conferences etc.
- Increased autonomy to organise own work and/or increased resources with which to perform work.
- Public awards of various kinds made by management in recognition of a specific achievement or innovation or for consistent achievement over a specific period.
- Specific access to specialised training and development opportunities.
- Participation on a prioritised rotation basis in study tours or overseas trips and other visits by the Council, Municipal Manager and/or senior management.

9.8 The Municipality must keep accurate records of all performance assessments and the outcomes related thereto, including all performance rewards.

10 SYSTEM EVALUATION AND REVIEW

Evaluation of the IPMS should help determine whether the system is functioning effectively. An evaluation schedule should be established in the early stages of the performance cycle. This will assist supervisors in targeting what the generally desired outcomes of the IPMS as a system are. It is important to determine initially the types of data required throughout the performance management process. The municipality will obtain baseline data with which to compare future data. The data desired and the available timeframes for collecting the data will determine the types of data collection techniques and analyses used.

The evaluation strategy will be determined as the performance management programme is being rolled out and should change if it does not provide appropriate data on which to base future decisions. Some of the questions that should be asked and answered in an evaluation include —

- Is the programme addressing the municipal needs?
- Does the programme fit the municipal's values and culture?
- Do managers have the necessary skills to use the programme?
- Does it provide useful data for making personnel decisions?

The Manager: HR should conduct an audit of the implementation of IPMS at the end of the performance cycle. The methodology applied shall be a survey questionnaire to a representative sample within the municipality. Following the development of performance agreements and workplans and during the course of the year, management should ascertain the following in respect of the system –

- Whether the system meets the specifications.
- Whether the users understand it and are able to use it.
- Whether the municipality is achieving its initial objectives.

The system review process is based on the legal guidelines, best practice guidelines and monitoring and evaluation guidelines. The Moderating Committee, with technical support from HR will determine if the legal requirements are being met –

- All employees are being assessed at least on an annual basis.
- Employees know which supervisor will be responsible for their assessment.
- The details of the performance management system are communicated to employees before the process starts.
- Employees are given the right to refuse to sign a performance assessment form.
- Identifying the disagreement and resolution route; and
- Permitting employee representatives to represent an employee in grievance processes.

11 THE INSTITUTIONAL FRAMEWORK

The IPMS enables the municipality to translate overall strategic priorities as captured in the relevant policy statements and its strategic plan into performance measures for various levels of employees. In developing the municipal objectives, the MM and senior management utilise the IDP and SDBIP to outline objectives for the key result areas (KRAs). The KRAs provide strategic focus and direction for the other activities in the municipality. The MM and senior management will develop the organisational level objectives and indicators. This can be achieved by applying the following sequence –

- Identify appropriate objectives and key result areas based on the strategic priorities in the relevant policy statements and strategic plan.
- Develop indicators for each of the KRAs to measure progress towards the achievement of objectives and priorities
- Develop processes and time frames for development of SDBIP for the municipality or senior management team members
- Develop process and time frames for incorporation into workplans of all staff in the form of KRAs.
- Incorporate overall performance into the MM's performance agreement

The following key role players will assume the responsibilities outlined to promote the implementation of the IPMS in the municipality.

Mayor

The Council identifies the key government priority areas and the priorities the municipality should deliver on. Council then assigns the responsibility for the achievement of municipal goals to the MM through the latter's performance agreement.

The Municipal Manager

The MM is responsible for the development of the IDP of the municipality by means of the medium-term strategic plan translated annually into the SDBIP. The MM is also responsible for ensuring that departments are assigned specific responsibilities drawn from the municipal IDP and SDBIP. The MM gives effect to the IPMS by issuing it as a municipal policy and performance management system.

The Directors/HOD's

The Directors are responsible for developing the department's SDBIP that derive from the municipality's IDP. She/he is also responsible for determining the KRAs for the section managers, based on those indicated in the department's objectives, and also for supervising Section Managers' performance agreements.

The Section Managers

The Section Managers are responsible for the section objectives and for ensuring that sub-sections develop business plans based on the objectives. The Section Managers also ensure that sub-sections have defined objectives, outputs, targets and staff to carry the responsibility and the budget to fund the activity.

Supervisors

All supervisory staff with responsibility within a section will ensure that they explain the development of a PA to all employees under their supervision. They will then develop a PA jointly with each employee.

The supervisor will clarify for employees the objectives of the section, the clients of the section, the employee's job description, the employee's clients, the KRAs and GAFs, time frames, measures and the actual performance rating method. Supervisors will also assist employees to identify and incorporate training needs into their PAs. This will be captured in the Personal Development Plan.

The Employee

All employees of the Department, from the MM through senior and middle management to employees at the 'production level', are responsible for clarifying with their immediate supervisors the dates and process for developing and submitting their PAs. All employees are responsible for developing a draft PA, based on the required objectives, KRAs and GAFs and other aspects of their job that have been previously clarified by the immediate supervisor. The employee is responsible for presenting the draft PA to the supervisor for joint agreement on the final PA.

The Manager: Human Resource

This position is responsible for ensuring that –

- the system is made available and revisions properly communicated;
- a plan is jointly developed with the HR unit for the training of trainers as well as the training of supervisors in the implementation of the IPMS;
- regulatory changes likely to affect the IPMS are communicated timeously;
- PAs and employment contracts of relevant staff are reconciled where necessary;
- dates for submission of PAs, review reports and assessment are set;
- the Moderating Committee is constituted by the MM and senior management;
- organised labour is consulted in order to obtain their inputs and feedback on the implementation and review of the IPMS; and
- on-going technical support is provided to sections and employees.
- Incorporating identified training needs into the training and skills development planning and implementation processes of the department
- Jointly developing and implementing the workplace skills plan for the department in co-operation with the HR component.

The Moderating Committee (see also paragraph 8)

- The Moderating Committee will monitor the performance management process by obtaining an overall sense of whether norms and standards are being applied consistently and realistically to employees on the same level. The Committee should not assess each individual case for purposes of evaluating ratings, but should develop an overall view of the results of process. If deviations from norms and standards are identified, these must be referred back to the relevant supervisor for review.

Assessment Appeal Panel (see also paragraph 8)

The Assessment Appeal Panel is established by the Mayor to manage disagreements over ratings referred above. The Panel must be constituted in such a manner that expertise of the line function, performance management, legal affairs and labour relations is included, and the Panel will consider written representations of an employee.

In the event of any remaining disagreement over the performance assessment of an employee, the employee may follow the formal grievance rules of the Public Service. If all of these processes ultimately fail to resolve any disagreement or grievance, the employee is entitled to seek redress through other means available in law.

Approved by Resolution Number LC9.6 on the 30th day of June 2021.
